HINESVILLE, GA. – Christ Tabernacle of Faith Church hosted a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony in conjunction with the Liberty County Chamber of Commerce on Friday, October 21st at 908 South Main Street in Hinesville. Reverend Kathleen Ayalas, along with members of her congregation, welcomed city officials, chamber staff, board members, ambassadors, members and people from the community to this event.

“Our organization is grateful to be a part of the Hinesville community. Our mission is to serve the community, we are here for you so please call on us.” said Reverend Kathleen Ayala, Pastor of Christ Tabernacle of Faith Church. She went on to introduce her family, support group and board members of the Church.

Organized in June 2010, the Church began their services out of a home in Hinesville and quickly outgrew their worship locations. Christ Tabernacle of Faith Church’s mission is to reach out to the surrounding community in a loving and spiritual relationship. The Church takes pride in making the Gospel understandable through clear preaching and teaching.

Mayor Pro Tem Charles Frasier offered thanks by stating, “The City welcomes you and thanks you for all you do. We appreciate your service to the community.”

Following the ceremony, attendees were treated to tours of the facility, followed by a lunch buffet.

“We welcome you to the Chamber, we are here for you and support your growing business,” offered Kevin Thomas, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Liberty County Chamber of Commerce.

Established in 1976, the Liberty County Chamber of Commerce’s mission is to support new and existing business, trade and industry within Liberty County, while increasing the cultural, civic, educational and overall quality of life of its citizens. The Chamber and its’ 442 members are committed to enhancing the local business climate and maintaining a high quality of life in the community.
